

AMONG THE EXCHANGES OF THE INLAND EMPIRE

$70,000 Armory.
The board of county commissioners yesterday made an appropriation of $70,000 for use in the erection of an armory.

To the $20,000 appropriation from the county will be added $20,000 from the state. The chamber of commerce will try to raise $20,000 more, and a $70,000 building will be built. The structure will be built of brick and in dimensions will be 100 feet by 100 feet. There will be a lively fight over the location. The North Side will make a great fight for it.—Spokane.

Penitentiary Removals.
Chapter second, of the penitentiary scrap, opened at 6 o'clock last morning, with Warden Perrin at the head of the parade. His first move was to put out the guard. He followed by one of the guards, J. McClellan Smith. The man appointed as guard is credited with the fact that the former was under the impression that he was a protegee of Attorney Bagley, he having been appointed from Ouelida county.—Boise Capital News.

Baker County Cattle Deals.
Mr. Thomas yesterday drove to North Powder eight carloads of fine cattle, which he had been feeding in this vicinity and which he had sold to Kiddle Bros. of La Grande. From North Powder they will be shipped to the Portland market. Mr. Thomas while here, also bought 150 head of beef cattle which he will feed until in condition for the market. Monday he will receive at Baker city about 100 head which he purchased on Burnt river.—Haines Special.

Snow at the Mines.
C. M. McClaren came down from the mining property in the Rock Creek district yesterday, having succeeded in getting the snow off the mountain.

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR HORSES

Wanted—One hundred head of unbroken horses. I am located for the winter at the Dutch Henry feed yard, corner of Alta and Lillith streets, where I conduct a first-class training school. If you want to buy a horse, I will take your order and select the best horse for you, or if you want a horse to sell I am well equipped to break and handle him. I have the finest blooded horses to the widest and most desperate branches. There is no horse but I will break and be made to drive or work slowly if he be handled correctly. I have broke one hundred and thirty-three head in Pendleton, some of them had become desperadoes. I guarantee satisfaction in every case.

pendent operations for the winter. Mr. McClaren reports the camp in a flourishing condition, and that extensive work will be carried on in the district this winter. He also states that when he left his property yesterday there was a foot of snow on the ground.—Haines Record.

Grant County Inspector.
George Irvin of Monument, stock inspector for Grant county, was in town last Saturday. Mr. Irvin is circulating a petition asking for his reappointment. J. H. Casaday of Hamilton, would also like to have the position and petitions are being circulated in his favor. The appointment will be made at the January term of county court.—Blue Mountain Eagle.

Height of Hood and Adams.
Opinions have differed so greatly as to the height of Mt. Hood and Mt. Adams, that Oregonians are at a loss sometimes what answer to make when asked how high they are. According to the latest government report Hood is 11,225 feet and Adams 12,402.—The Dalles Chronicle.

Will Drive to Nevada.
Roy Miller has gone to Interior Oregon, looking for a big hay and grazing land proposition for Eastern people. If he doesn't find what he wants in this state, he will drive through to California and Nevada.—Sumpter Daily Miner.

OFFICIAL SPEED TRIAL

Cruiser Pennsylvania Sails From the Port of Boston.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 21.—The new armored cruiser Pennsylvania left port early today for her official speed trial over the government course from Cape Ann to Cape Porpoise. Me. Captain Faulkner of Cramps, who is in charge of the vessel, announces that no effort will be made to break records, but the builders are confident that the ship will exceed the contract speed. Since the Colorado, a sister ship of the Pennsylvania, came back from her government trial last month with the official speed of 22.24 knots to her credit, the opinion has grown that the Pennsylvania could at least duplicate that.

The contract for the building of the Pennsylvania was signed with that of the Colorado January 10, 1901. She is a protected cruiser of the first class, and with the Colorado represents a new and most powerful type. The armor of the Pennsylvania is of sufficient thickness to withstand the impact of projectiles fired at fighting range from vessels carrying guns of the same calibre as hers. The vessel is 502 feet in length, 69 feet 6 inches beam, mean draught of 24 feet 1 inch and has a normal displacement of 13,690 tons.
